++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:

Bright or sunny spells developing, cloudier in the east.

Today:

A cloudy start but brightness breaking through for most although it will take much of the day for cloud to clear in the east. Pleasantly warm in the west.

Tonight:

Lots of evening sunshine in the west but likely to be cloudier around the east and north coasts. Cloud beginning to spill west overnight in light winds.

Wednesday:

A dry and bright day for most with cloud dispersing during the morning for most areas except perhaps east coasts. Feeling warm in the sunshine.

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:

Remaining dry and settled with some brightness although it will be rather cloudy at times in east. Saturday marks the beginning of change with stronger southerly winds in the west.
